

DENNIS STAGLIANO'S KENTUCKY DERBY TIP SHEET

Kentucky Derby: Justify should face pace pressure he's never encountered, and he never has had more than six opponents. Justify has only beaten 14 total horses and had everything his way each time. Could be Baffert's next American Pharoah, or just another inexperienced colt who will find the Derby too much, too soon? The size of the Kentucky Derby field may be a factor, but I'm not betting on just the horse. Throw in his connections of four-time Derby winner Bob Baffert and "Big Money" jockey Mike Smith and you have a clear Derby favorite. If any trio can overcome The Curse of Apollo, he, Baffert and Smith are prime candidates. Justify checks the key boxes. In his last he bolted by Bolt d'Oro with plenty to spare. There is no doubt that Justify could win the Derby, and I expect the cagy veteran Smith to keep him clear of traffic trouble. This fine looking chestnut colt has dazzled since debuting Feb. 18 and his talent should overcome the absence of a 2-year-old foundation. Magnum Moon is very impressive, undefeated and untested, just like Justify, the other standout who didn't race last year. No Derby winner since 1882 lacked 2-year-old experience, but eventually, The Curse of Apollo will be broken, and I think it will be this year. Problem is, if you think that will happen, do you bet on Magnum Moon or Justify? He led throughout a slow Arkansas Derby, coasting 6 furlongs in 1:13.39 before accelerating. Got the final furlong in a quick 11.99 seconds, but don't expect the Derby to be slow early. Stalked in his first three races, which would be his best scenario. Drifted out badly while well clear at Oaklawn, which is a bit of a concern. Nevertheless, to me, Magnum Moon is one of the likely winners of the Derby. There is good value on this unbeaten colt. Audible is a versatile Florida Derby winner that has won stalking, from midpack and from far back. Has outstanding late-pace figures, and few can work out a trip better than four-time Eclipse Award winner Castellano. A very logical alternative to Justify and Magnum Moon and will be no surprise if this New York-bred colt wins. Audible has been a top choice to win the Derby since the Holy Bull. He checks the big boxes of the past five years while unbeaten as a 3-year-old and winner of the 100-point Florida Derby. The Todd Pletcher trainee offers value when listed as the fourth choice. A must-use to win, and on top and underneath in the exotice wagers. Good Magic a two-year-old champion rebounded from a disappointing season debut by beating a weak Blue Grass field. Negative trends: No Blue Grass winner has taken the Derby since 1991, and Good Magic's speed numbers at 3 are uninspiring. Either he has stopped improving or the masterful Brown has him ready to peak in his third start of the year. Price will be tempting considering who trains him. Good Magic's training at Churchill Downs has been splendid. Chad Brown has him coming up to the big race in his third start of the current form cycle, just like for the Breeders' Cup Juvenile. Yet he is the sixth choice on the morning line. He is an overlay as a possible winner. I will use him underneath in the exotics. Bolt d'Oro dropped down in my rankings since his third-place finish in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile. His best performance was in the Grade 1 FrontRunner as a juvenile, and he has not duplicated that race since. That being said, the Derby is going to offer the highest odds of his career by far and gives him value. I will use him in my exotics because the faster pace in Derby will tilt the race shape in Bolt d'Oro's favor, and his final-time and late-pace figures put him right there. Likely overlay could get first run on the closers, and his stayer's pedigree (Medaglia d'Oro out of an A.P. Indy mare) is a major plus. A legitimate contender. Vino Rosso is son of Curlin and bounced back to win the 100-point Wood Memorial. His aggressive run down in the Aqueduct stretch makes you think that he will handle the traffic and bumping of the Derby nicely. Hall of Fame rider John Velazquez chose Vino Rosso over all the other Pletcher runners because he knows that he can get the Derby distance. Generous odds will be available on this horse, making him my biggest value bet. Has a terrific distance pedigree (Curlin and a Street Cry mare), so 1 1/4 miles shouldn't be a problem. With further improvement, he'll be in the mix, but post 18 complicates matters. If not for the post, I wouldn't had him higher.
